ANTECEDENTES

Time: 3:00 PM - 6:00 PM EST (22 April 2025)

Location: UNHQ Conference Room 11

Against the backdrop of profound shifts in globalization and industrial integration, economic development faces heightened uncertainties. How to face up to the global industrial pattern, promote international industrial exchanges and cooperation based on a comprehensive analysis of the industrial and corporate strength of various countries, jointly explore new paths for industrial development, promote global economic recovery and sustainable development, and build a community with a shared future for mankind is a common concern of all sectors of society. In this context, it is timely and of great significance to organize and hold the " Global Industry Joint Development Forum (2025)".

The forum will convene over 60 experts and scholars from the United Nations, academia, and leading enterprises, serving as a vital platform for global industrial cooperation and innovative dialogue.
