

CIFAL Honolulu - Current Global Environmental Issues Course

 : 2 1st 2025

	:	Course
	:	Honolulu, Hawaii, United States of America
	:	6 1 st 2025 to 2 5 th 2025
	:	116 Days
	:	Decentralize Cooperation Programme
	:	https://catalog.chaminade.edu/course/env
	:	US$0.00
	email:	ggrabows@chaminade.edu
	:	CIFAL Honolulu, Chaminade University of Honolulu

This course is required for Environmental Studies and Environmental Science majors and minors.

'-Summarize the major global and Pacific Island environmental issues -Integrate the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals into their solution strategies for each issue -Differentiate the causal sequence of events that is believed to have resulted in/created each of the global issues discussed in class -Inventory the general mechanism(s) by which each of the issues discussed is detrimental to people and/or ecosystems -Formulate and recite one or more potential solutions to each environmental issue and describe the pros and cons of each from a variety of stakeholder perspectives -Recognize the role of diverse environmental ethics in contributing to the creation of and solutions to global environmental issues -Effectively argue for particular solutions to environmental issues - Recognize their hands-on role in environmental issues of public concern -Discuss how service-learning embodies our Pacific island and Marianist values

'-Summarize the major global and Pacific Island environmental issues -Integrate the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals into their solution strategies for each issue -Differentiate the causal sequence of events that is believed to have resulted in/created each of the global issues discussed in class -Inventory the general mechanism(s) by which each of the issues discussed is detrimental to people and/or ecosystems -Formulate and recite one or more potential solutions to each environmental issue and describe the pros and cons of each from a variety of stakeholder perspectives -Recognize the role of diverse environmental ethics in contributing to the creation of and solutions to global environmental issues -Effectively argue for particular solutions to environmental issues - Recognize their hands-on role in environmental issues of public concern -Discuss how service-learning embodies our Pacific island and Marianist values

One midterm and one final exam based on all readings, videos, discussions, etc., service learning, Issue Exposés: You lead class (number of times determined by class size), creation of integrative Mind Maps illustrating causes, consequences and solutions for particular global issues

The aim of the course is to have students become aware of the material as well as socioeconomic causes of environmental degradation, the detrimental impacts of environmental degradation on humans and the potential sustainable solutions to the greatest environmental challenges.

College Students